

Bloomberg is a global business and financial information and news company. We connect influential decision makers to a dynamic network of information, people and ideas through innovative technology solutions. At our core is the Bloomberg Professional service, a dynamic and powerful technology platform that provides real-time financial data, news and analytics to approximately 325,000 subscribers globally. Our clients include leading banks, corporations, central banks, financial institutions and universities.

Many people are familiar with our consumer facing properties, including our 24-hour television network and news website. But our news content is generated first for Bloomberg Professional service customers - financial professionals who require the fastest, most accurate news and data analytics to give them a critical edge in their day-to-day investment and business decisions.

Over the last few years, we operate in increasingly complex, interconnected financial markets. Simply having the best people, service and technology are not enough. Disruptive innovation and breakthrough performance only happen when we are able to channel the diverse ideas and experiences of our employees to solve the critical needs of our clients. We are extremely proud of our diverse and open and global culture, consisting of more than 19,000 employees in 192 locations around the world.