

Teach For China

2017 - 2019 Teaching Fellowship

Introduction about Teach For China

For students who seek a post-grad job in teaching and are willing to help others, they will make a difference in the rural education in China by joining the Teach for China. Established in 2008, Teach For China is a non-profit organization taking a unique approach to eliminating educational inequity in China by enlisting Chinese most promising future leaders in the effort.

Description of Teach For China Fellowship

Each year, Teach For China selects a cohort of outstanding Chinese and American university graduates (with Chinese citizenship) to work as full-time teachers in Chinese most under-resourced schools for two years. Teach For China prepares its Fellows for the rigors of the classroom with an intensive four to six-week Summer Training Institute focused on building teaching, leadership, communication and professional capabilities. Teach For China is offering a unique opportunity for promising future leaders to serve in two-year teaching Fellowships in China's most needy rural schools, while living and working side-by-side with their Chinese counterparts.
